

Building Awareness:

The importance of inclusion and diversity in research

CLEVELAND
ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE
RESEARCH CENTER

You are invited to attend a virtual information session hosted by the CADRC to engage the community in CADRC research and raise awareness of our recently funded center.

Panel Discussion

Community partnerships to advance research on Alzheimer's Disease.

CADRC Minority Advisory Board members will discuss what participation in CADRC research means to them and their own experiences as research participants.

Guest Speaker: Stephanie Monroe
African Americans Against Alzheimer's
Executive Director

African Americans Against Alzheimer's is the first national network created specifically to respond to the disparate impact of Alzheimer's on African Americans. By working nationally, locally, and through strategic partnerships, African Americans Against Alzheimer's is raising awareness of the critical need to engage, connect, and mobilize to advance our national commitment to ending Alzheimer's by 2025. Additionally, they work to bring Alzheimer's out of the shadows and encourage greater participation in clinical research.

When: Thursday, January 20, 2022

Time: 12:00pm - 1:00pm ET

To register, scan the QR code or visit:
<https://tinyurl.com/2p8f6d8t>

For more information on the webinar, use your smartphone to scan the QR code

Join us on Facebook Live @CleveADRC

No computer? No problem. Call us to learn how to join the webinar with audio only.

Questions about the event? Call 1-833-311-2372 | Email OREC@ClevelandADRC.org