

University Hospitals Neurological Institutes Brain Health & Memory Center presents:

Understanding Frontotemporal Lobar Degeneration: A Pathway to Hope

Join experts for an informative community gathering which focuses on the care, support and research opportunities for those affected by Frontotemporal Lobar Degeneration.

Thursday, June 13, 2024

6 – 8 p.m.

UH Ahuja Medical Center

Enid B. and David M. Rosenberg, MD Conference Suite, 1st Floor

3999 Richmond Road

Beachwood, OH 44122

Event is free to attendees, but registration is required. Light refreshments will be provided.
Please RSVP to Parianne Fatica at 216-464-6474 or Parianne.Fatica@UHhospitals.org

PRESENTERS:

Brian S. Appleby, MD

Topic: Understanding Frontotemporal Lobar Degeneration: A Pathway to Hope

Marianne Sanders, RN Clinical Research Nurse Specialist

Lauren Brasse, MSSA, LISW-S Clinical Social Worker Foley ElderHealth Clinic

Topic: Cleveland Area Virtual FTD Support Group

Maria Toth, RN Clinical Research Nurse Specialist

Topic: ARTFL-LEFFTDS Longitudinal Frontotemporal Lobar Degeneration research study (ALLFTD)

University Hospitals
Neurological Institute